MAULDING'S PLAN

IS CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS OF BAND IN MARYVILLE.

MONEY ABOUT COLLECTED

Committee Within a Few Hundred Dollars of Required Amount to Finance Band Movement.

Bandmaster T. B. Maulding, leader of the Fourth Regiment band, is confident that the band can be made the best that it has ever been, according to his statement made yesterday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Board of Directors of the Commercial Club.

Professor Maulding gave a first hand exposition of the work that the band has done and of the future possibilities of the band in Maryville. He requested that the merchants and the Commercial Club co-operate with him in finding work for the boys who would come to Maryville to find employment in order to take part with the band. He said that merchants could do this by informing Professor Maulding or the Commercial Club if they know of a place where men are needed.

Professor Maulding told of a rehearsal, which he held Sunday, and which, he thought, was a splendid indication of the interest taken in the band by the members. At 2 o'clock twenty-four band men were present, and a rousing rehearsal was held for three hours.

The plan as suggested by Professor Maulding would be to allow only experienced men to play in the band, and in this way the high standard already reached by the organization can be kept up. A children's band will be arranged for by Professor Maulding as soon as he has the men's band in working order.

The financial committee in charge of the collections for keeping the Fourth Regiment band in Maryville are now within a few hundred dollars of having enough money to insure Bandmaster Maulding's salary. Collections yesterday afternoon were exceptionally encouraging, and Mr. Pearson says that the money will be pledged by the end of the week.

About thirty of those who are on the list last time as contributors to the band fund have not yet been seen by the committee and it is expected that the contributions of these persons will almost complete the sum necessary to keep the band in Maryville.

Those whose names were added to the list lately are: The Rev. S. A. Cole, C. Switzer, Dr. Karl Malotte, the Murphy Clothing Co., E. L. Townsend, Ferdinand Townsend, Wadley Brothers, Oak Cafe, Jim Conklin, Paul Bastford, T. F. Reimer, F. M. Compton, T. L. Wilderman, Banner Bottling Works, Sewell Automobile Company, Maryville Tribune, W. J. Staples, Maryville Tire and Rubber company, John H. Gray, G. Dunkelmann, Dr. E. C. Braniger and the Rev. T. H. Wiles.

FEAR FELT FOR TAX BILL

With March 19 Set For Adjournment of the State Senate, Fate of the Measure Is Uncertain.

Special to The Democrat-Forum. Jefferson City, Mo., March 13.—With Monday, March 19 next, practically selected as the day for final adjournment of the present session of the General Assembly, Democratic leaders today express the fear over the fate of the state tax commission bill. The measure now is in the hands of a joint conference committee to untangle the disagreement between the Senate and House upon the measure.

It is an open secret that the House Republicans are solidly opposed to the tax commission bill. The belief, therefore, is general that the report of the conference committee cannot be adopted in the House and the bill finally passed as agreed in the conference committee without Republican votes.

RAINFALL IS .87 STRIKE IS POSSIBLE

LONG WINTER DROUTH OF THIS SECTION IS BROKEN. LETTER HINTING ACTION SENT BY FOUR R. R. BROTHERHOODS

WINTER SNOW FALL .88 REACHES WHITE HOUSE

December, January and February the Driest Months in Missouri In Sixty Years. Informs President That Officials Are Hopeful of Working Out Satisfactory Agreement.

Special to The Democrat-Forum. Washington, Mar. 13.—First official intimation of the possibility of a great railroad strike this week reached the White House today in a letter signed by the four brotherhood heads. It informed the president that a conference with the railroad managers will be held Thursday and that the brotherhoods were hopeful of working out a satisfactory agreement. If they should fail to agree and the country should find itself at war the brotherhoods will support the president "to the fullest extent," the letter continued.

No flat declaration that a strike would be called was communicated in the letter, but this didn't allay the fears of the officials that a walkout is near.

According to the weather report from the St. Louis weather station, the prospects are good for another soaking rain or a heavy snow this evening. Wednesday, says the report will be unsettled with a colder temperature in the south and east central portions.

For Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska, the same kind of weather would prevail, and all, without exception will be visited by shifting winds and either rain or snowfall.

It is said that the storm is headed this way from New Mexico and Texas. The precipitation ended a record winter drouth which has been general over the states of this section of the country.

December, January and February, this winter have been the driest winter months in this part of the country for more than sixty years, with a total precipitation of only .88 of an inch. The basis of this statement is furnished by the weather record kept at Oregon, Mo., which dates back to 1855, and for the twenty-five years the records have been kept at Maryville.

Much more sunshine has prevailed than in any winter since the establishment of the weather bureau here.

As regards temperature, this winter has been almost normal. The temperature was below zero several days and was up to 60 degrees an equal number of days.

SCOVILLE PARTY IN CALIF.

Conducting Monstrous Revival at Fresno, in Large Tabernacle With 4,000 Seats.

Fresno, Calif., Mar. 13.—Fifty-two thousand persons heard Dr. Charles Reign Scoville in the first twelve meetings of the union evangelistic campaign here. Six hundred and twenty-one lined up at the first two invitations.

The tabernacle was first built with 4,000 seats. It was filled to overflowing even on the week nights. An addition that provides for the seating of 600 more persons was built last Saturday. Sunday evening every seat was occupied, nearly 500 stood along the walls and scores packed the eight exits. Many stood in the custodian's quarters and inquiry room out of sight of the evangelist but within hearing of his voice.

Religion is on everyone's lips here. Dr. Scoville is preaching against indifference in the churches and the evils that exist along the Pacific coast. However, Fresno is considered better than the average of California cities from a moral viewpoint. In all Dr. Scoville's audiences a dozen or more nationalities are represented. Thirty three dialects and more than a score of tongues are spoken here.

Everything is going like clock work, except that Mrs. Arlene Dux Scoville, wife of the evangelist whose singing has been such a decided feature of his former campaigns has been suffering with an attack of appendicitis. It was feared that an operation would be necessary but physicians say she will escape.

Mr. Parker of the party is walking with a cane, due to a serious minor operation on his foot. Infection from an ingrown toe nail was the cause. However he has gamely stuck to his tasks and the personal work is well up to the standard under his direction.

Jefferson City, Mar. 13.—Cape Girardeau's long fight for an adequate supply of pure water has been won at last. In a ruling just made public by the State Public Service Commission in the case of Mayor Fred A. Page of Cape Girardeau against the Missouri Public Utilities Company, the commission finds that it is necessary that the company shall construct an intake tower and pumping station for its water system in that city.

The commission directed that the tower and pumping station be located in the Mississippi river above the mouth of Sloan's Creek, and the new pumping station must be in operation not later than July 15, next.

French and English Cabinets on the Brink of Disaster—Lloyd George in Bitter Fight Tomorrow.

Special to The Democrat-Forum. London, March 13.—Three of the most powerful allied nations are facing a serious political crisis today. The suspension of the sittings of the Russian Duma by the Czar has created a situation of the utmost gravity at Petrograd.

Dispatches to the London papers passed by the Russian censor hint at possibilities of a revolution in the Czar's empire.

Attacked by a powerful influence in parliament, the French cabinet, headed by Premier Briand is nearing the brink of disaster today.

It is believed that only the promise of radical changes in the ministry would save it from fall.

CHINESE WAKE UP

WAR HAS BROUGHT A GREAT CHANGE IN MARITIME TRADE.

HARDWARE SALES GROW

American Products in China Taking Place of European Since Trade Has Come Our Way.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Mar. 13. — Evidence that China, for centuries the sleeping giant of the Orient, is stretching, preparatory to a full awakening, is contained in a report issued today by the Department of Commerce.

Supplies from Europe having fallen off because of the European war, China is turning to America to fill her orders.
And so well does she take to the goods from the western world that Commercial Attache Julian Arnold, author of the Commerce Department report, sees a real awakening of the Chinese giant in prospect as a result.

War Helps Chinese Trade.

Up to the time the war broke out,
American manufacturers, the report states, were not getting their share of the business. The war has had two results, one an increased demand for American goods, the other a great stimulation of domestic manufacture. The increased demand for American goods will result in permanently increased business if American houses make a good proposition while on trial. Commercial Attache Arnold voices the opinion, however, that some few firms are exploiting the market for all it is worth and hurting future prospects for themselves and for other American houses.

Hardware Market Good.

The report discussed in detail the market for each hardware line. In Shanghai the biggest market is for heavy hardware. The Chinese have tried those lines from the United States and are satisfied with them under present conditions, but prices will have to be lower to compete with British makes after the war.

American tools are much too good for the Shanghai market, as English and German makers have for years held the trade by supplying second or third grade articles at very low prices.
The Chinese prefer English files to the American makes.

Some Foreign Razors Used.

American pocket knives are unknown to the natives, as the medium grades come from England and the cheaper grades from Japan and Germany. The native barbers all use Chinese razors, which are big, clumsy affairs made from old files by the local blacksmiths. They sell for five cents. Foreign razors have a fair sale and there are many imitation American razors on the market. American shears came in during the period of que cutting and are liked for their finish.

Implements are Premature.

Agricultural implements are mostly primitive affairs, made locally. Electrical supplies are now being used to a small extent, and the Japanese are furnishing some goods at prices lower than English and American makers can meet. American scales outsell English and German makes, but small scales, in pattern similar to the steelyard, are made locally at low cost.
The Chinese housewife takes no chances when marketing and carries her own scales to verify the dealers' weights.

Demand for House Fixtures.

While a Chinese house needs nothing but fittings made by the nearest

A "MADE-IN-JAPAN" BANQUET

Unique Feature Will Close Journalism
Week May 7-11, at Columbia —
Japanese Support It.

A "Made-in-Japan" banquet, where Oriental splendor will mix with American conservatism, will bring to a close the 1917 Journalism Week, to be held May 7 to 11 at Columbia by the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri. The idea is receiving the heartly support of Japanese statesmen, especially Viscount Motono, minister of foreign affairs. Viscount Koneko, president of the America's Friend societies, is also actively interested in the plan.

"The 'Made-in-Japan' banquet as planned by the School of Journalism is probably the first of its kind in the United States," Dean Walter Williams says. "The menu, as far as practicable, will be Japanese-grown products.
Souvenirs typical of the industries and exports of Japan will be distributed to the visiting journalists."

A Japanese decorator will come from Tokyo or New York to superintend the decorations. Two Japanese steamship lines, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, have agreed to give precedence to the shipments of souvenirs over all other articles.

The movement is meeting with the indorsement of the Japanese government, and they are realizing that the publicity obtained from the banquet will be of much force in cementing the friendship of the two countries, according to Oscar E. Riley of the Japan Advertiser of Tokyo, a graduate of the School of Journalism, who is acting as its representative in Japan in making the arrangements.

GARDEN MUST BE PLANNED

Time Spent In Deciding How and Where to Plant Will Save You Much Subsequent Labor.

A little time spent in planning a garden will save a great deal of subsequent labor. C. G. Carpenter of the Missouri College of Agriculture suggests that the rows of vegetables run north and south so that one side will receive sunlight in the morning and the other in the afternoon. This is the best argument wherever it is possible. The slope of the garden, if it is on a hillside, may prevent running the rows north and south. It is also advisable to space the rows so that horse-drawn implements can be used. Sometimes it pays to arrange even such small plants as lettuce and radishes so that they may be cultivated with labor saving implements.

In general, planting should be begun on one side of the garden and continued to the other. This will enable the gardener to keep the weeds down on the unplanted area with minimum labor.

Vegetables planted at the same time and requiring similar cultivation should be grouped in adjacent rows. However, the time of planting is more important than the kind of cultivation required.

Rhubarb, horse radish, asparagus, winter onions, and other plants which occupy the ground, longer than a year should be set apart. Parsnips, salsify, and similar crops should be placed near the perennials. Vegetables which require only a short growing season, such as onions, cabbage, lettuce, radishes, peas, and beets, and second plantings of these crops may follow in order as planting proceeds across the garden.

GARDEN TRUCK PAYS BILLS

Macon, Mo., Editor Takes Potatoes, Beans or Other Produce for Over-due Subscriptions.

Macon, Mo.—The good old days of cordwood, onions and cabbage on subscriptions have come back to the country newspaper man. The only trouble is the editor can't get enough of the garden truck legal tender.

Farmers with overdue subscriptions can settle now with about half as much as they used to pay. A bushel of Irish potatoes will settle for a small town daily for a year and a half, or for a weekly more than two years, and the editor will be glad to make the deal.

A while back the country paper advertised all accounts should be paid in cash. Since country produce has become even more exclusive than cash, the rule has been abrogated. There are farmers about Macon who have already contracted for their papers for 1917-18 to be paid in vegetables not yet sown.

Almost anything goes these days. The other day a man made himself solid with a daily paper here for a year by swapping a box of 17½ collars, and not a man in the shop had a neck that big. But the editor knew what he was about. He traded the collars to a negro for janitor service.

Through the winter hay, corn, oats and rabbits were turned in on subscriptions.

One day a man offered a tough-looking bull pup to a Macon editor for a year's subscription. The editor was about to turn the proposition down, when some one came in from the print room and touched him on the shoulder. It was the devil, begrimed with the color of his craft.

"I need a dog," he said, "you can take it out of my wages Saturday night."

ONE ON THE RACOONS.

Beans Acquire New Social Position with Rise in Price to $7.60 a Bu.

Beans are not what they used to be. They are no longer the friends of the boarding house landlady, the lumberjack, the soldier, and the frontiersman. They no longer do the world's exploiting, dig its mines, reduce its forests, build its skyscrapers, fight its battles or feed its lunatics. This is its day. The lowly bean has done the world's work.

But it is no more to be. With its newly acquired social position, its usefulness disappears. For the bean is now the plutocrat of vegetable food. At $7.60 a bushel, almost double since the big war began, the bean will no longer recognize its poor relations. In fact it is believed it is contemplating a debut into polite society.

Baked all day with a slab of salt pork or bacon, it is expected beans will appear ere long where only the turkey has been wont to force his lucious thighs and where five or six knives and forks and spoons and things form in line for attacks at each plate.

Kansas City Stock Letter.

Kansas City Stock Yards, March 13.—Cattle receipts today were 15,000 head, market slow and about steady on steers, strong on cows and stockers and feeders, nothing prime here.

Hog supply was 14,000, market 10¢ to 15¢ lower, top $14.95, 5 cents above top reported from Chicago today. Sheep and lambs today $8.00, market steady to weak, top lambs $14.75.

Beef Cattle.

Prime steers were again lacking, the best natives here selling at $10.80 to $11.00, middle and plain kinds $9.50 to $10.75. Prime steers are worth around $12.00. More than 100 cars of pulp fed cattle arrived, seven cars of Oregon steers at $10.80, 1272 pounds average. Utah and Idaho at $10.40 to $10.80, Northern Colorado and Western Nebraska pulp steers at $10.40 to $11.10. Butcher cattle sold strong, cows mostly at $6.75 to $8.75 odd head up to $10.00, bulls $7.00 to $9.00, heifers $8.00 to $10.75, veal calves $9.00 to $11.50. The run today contained more than the usual proportion of shipments from a long distance, including a consignment from Southern Arizona, cattle recently

And some new implement will be invented for eating the beans, whereby you can eat prettily and die of starvation.

Nay, the bean will appear in the ladies afternoon luncheons under numerous aliases.

Good-bye beans, you have done much for us and for the world. And you do not prize our friendship. Some day you will. You will learn that we love you for what you were and not for what you cost. We always admitted you had the right stuff in you. Baked to mealy softness and oozing with the juice of pork, you approach divinity, but now you are gone to the table of the rich to mingle with wine and women and entrees of stale fish. You will no longer do the world's work. You will spend the world's money.

Good-bye old beans, and when you find nobody loves you but the dear people, come back again. The pot is open and we shall kill the fatted pig.—St. Joseph Observer.

brought across from Mexico. Native territory shows signs of depletion of the cattle supply, and light runs will be the order the balance of the week.

Stockers and Feeders.

Firm markets have ruled since the first of last week, including today, except for some weakness on thin stock steers late last week. Packers usually outbid feeder buyers on fleshy feeding steers, sales of feeders ranging from $8.60 to $10.00. Stock steers range from $7.50 to $8.50 in most cases, and are considered low, as compared with prospects for prices a month hence. Stock cows and heifers bring $6.00 to $8.50.

Hogs.

Receipts slightly in excess of estimates today gave buyers a breathing spell, and they got concessions of 10¢ to 15¢, early top $14.90, but one of two lots finally reaching $14.55, medium weights $14.90, lights $14.70, bulk of sales $14.50 to $14.90. Receipts here contain a great many poorly finished hogs from sections short of corn, hence a spread a little wider than if more good hogs were coming. Pig prices are very high, $11.50 to $13.50, and are held up by a strong demand for immune stock hogs, the immunizing plants getting as many of their pigs at the stock yards as they can. The situation is firm, and the break today is believed to be temporary.

Sheep and Lambs.

Early sales of lambs were steady, up to $14.75, but the market proved slow, and late sales were 10¢ lower. Sheep sold steady some 105th wethers at $12.60, no choice ewes here, but quotable up to $12.25. Clipped lambs have been coming freely for a week, and sell at $12.00 to $12.50. Feeding lambs are scarce, and not extra desirable, sales at $13.25 to $13.75. Receipts here have been very light, and local prices have ruled comparatively high.

A NEW FACE FOR BOY

Clever Surgeon Endeavors to Supply Features For Child Who Suffered Burns.

Chicago, Mar. 13.—A clever surgeon has made new ears for Mike Montferro, eight years old. He has made new eyelids for him, eyelids that will wink and shut. He has made new lips for him, lips which it is hoped will have learned how to kiss before Mike is taken back to his home at Miles City, Mont. Mike is in Augustana hospital and rapidly getting better.

Mike's father is a railroad laborer, his mother "works out" part of the time to fatten the family purse. They have been in the habit of leaving Mike in charge of his younger brothers and sisters. He didn't know how to manipulate a new stove and it exploded. Mike saved his life, sister, but his face was terribly burned. Part of the flesh were crisped and as the wounds healed the skin grew tight about the boy's eyes and ears and mouth. So the doctors out in Montana sent Mike to Chicago for the operations which would restore his face to him.

Mrs. J. F. Montgomery and daughter, Miss Ruth, are on their way home to Maryville after spending several weeks in points in Florida.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, TUESDAY, MAR. 13, 1917.

NO. 242.

MAULDING'S PLAN

IS CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS OF BAND IN MARYVILLE.

Committee Within a Few Hundred Dollars of Required Amount to Finance Band Movement.

Bandmaster T. B. Maulding, leader of the Fourth Regiment band, is confident that the band can be made the best that it has ever been, according to his statement made yesterday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Board of Directors of the Commercial Club.

Professor Maulding gave a first hand exposition of the work that the band has done and of the future possibilities of the band in Maryville. He requested that the merchants and the Commercial Club co-operate with him in finding work for the boys who would come to Maryville to find employment in order to take part with the band. He said that merchants could do this by informing Professor Maulding or the Commercial Club if they know of a place where men are needed.

Professor Maulding told of a rehearsal, which he held Sunday, and which, he thought, was a splendid indication of the interest taken in the band by the members. At 2 o'clock twenty-four band men were present, and a rousing rehearsal was held for three hours.

The plan as suggested by Professor Maulding would be to allow only experienced men to play in the band, and in this way the high standard already reached by the organization can be kept up. A children's band will be arranged for by Professor Maulding as soon as he has the men's band in working order.

The financial committee in charge of the collections for keeping the Fourth Regiment band in Maryville are now within a few hundred dollars of having enough money to insure Bandmaster Maulding's salary. Collections yesterday afternoon were exceptionally encouraging, and Mr. Pearson says that the money will be pledged by the end of the week.

About thirty of those who are on the list last time as contributors to the band fund have not yet been seen by the committee and it is expected that the contributions of these persons will almost complete the sum necessary to keep the band in Maryville.

Those whose names were added to the list lately are: the Rev. S. A. Colle, C. Sweetzer, Dr. Karl Malotte, the Murphy Clothing Co., E. L. Townsend, Ferdinand Townsend, Wadley Brothers, Oak Cafe, Jim Conklin, Paul Basford, T. F. Reimer, F. M. Compton, T. L. Wilderman, Banner Bottling Works, Sewell Automobile Company, Maryville Tribune, W. J. Staples, Maryville Tire and Rubber company, John H. Gray, G. Dunkelmann, Dr. E. C. Braniger and the Rev. T. H. Wiles.

FEAR FELT FOR TAX BILL

With March 19 Set For Adjournment of the State Senate, Fate of the Measure is Uncertain.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Jefferson City, Mar. 13.—With Monday, March 19 next, practically selected as the day for final adjournment of the present session of the General Assembly, Democratic leaders today express the fear over the fate of the state tax commission bill. The measure now is in the hands of a joint conference committee to untangle the disagreement between the Senate and House upon the measure.

It is an open secret that the House Republicans are solidly opposed to the tax commission bill. The belief, therefore, is general that the report of the conference committee cannot be adopted in the House and the bill finally passed as agreed in the conference committee without Republican votes.

RAINFALL IS .87 STRIKE IS POSSIBLE

LONG WINTER DROUTH OF THIS SECTION IS BROKEN.

WINTER SNOW FALL .88 REACHES WHITE HOUSE

December, January and February the Driest Months in Missouri In Sixty Years.

The long winter drouth, the occasion of so much uneasiness among the farmers, was broken last night and today by a refreshing rain which began to fall early in the evening and which has kept it up at intervals all day. J. R. Brink, local weather man says that up till noon today .87 of an inch of rain had fallen in this section.

According to the weather report from the St. Louis weather station, the prospects are good for another soaking rain or a heavy snow this evening. Wednesday, says the report will be unsettled with a colder temperature in the south and east central portions.

For Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska, the same kind of weather would prevail, and all, without exception will be visited by shifting winds and either rain or snowfall.

It is said that the storm is headed this way from New Mexico and Texas. The precipitation ended a record winter drouth which has been general over the states of this section of the country.

December, January and February, this winter have been the driest winter months in this part of the country for more than sixty years, with a total precipitation of only .88 of an inch. The basis of this statement is furnished by the weather record kept at Oregon, Mo., which dates back to 1855, and for the twenty-five years the records have been kept at Maryville.

Much more sunshine has prevailed than in any winter since the establishment of the weather bureau here.

As regards temperature, this winter has been almost normal. The temperature was below zero several days and was up to 60 degrees an equal number of days.

LETTER HINTING ACTION SENT BY FOUR R. R. BROTHERHOODS

Inform President That Officials Are Hopeful of Working Out Satisfactory Agreement.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Mar. 13.—First official intimation of the possibility of a great railroad strike this week reached the White House today in a letter signed by the four brotherhood heads. It informed the president that a conference with the railroad managers will be held Thursday and that the brotherhoods were hopeful of working out a satisfactory agreement. If they should fail to agree and the country should find itself at war the brotherhoods will support the president "to the fullest extent," the letter continued.

No flat declaration that a strike would be called was communicated in the letter, but this didn't allay the fears of the officials that a walkout is near.

WOT DO I CARE FOR A BLOOMIN' COAT?

—Evans in Baltimore American.

SCOVILLE PARTY IN CALIF.

Conducting Monstrous Revival at Fresno, in Large Tabernacle With 4,000 Seats.

Fresno, Calif., Mar. 13.—Fifty-two thousand persons heard Dr. Charles Reign Scoville in the first twelve meetings of the union evangelistic campaign here. Six hundred and twenty-one lined up at the first two invitations.

The tabernacle was first built with 4,000 seats. It was filled to overflowing even on the week nights. An addition that provides for the seating of 600 more persons was built last Saturday. Sunday evening every seat was occupied, nearly 500 stood along the walls and scores packed the eight exits. Many stood in the custodian's quarters and inquiry room out of sight of the evangelist but within hearing of his voice.

Religion is on everyone's lips here. Dr. Scoville is preaching against indifference in the churches and the evils that exist along the Pacific coast. However, Fresno is considered better than the average of California cities from a moral viewpoint. In all Dr. Scoville's audiences a dozen or more nationalities are represented. Thirty three dialects and more than a score of tongues are spoken here.

Everything is going like clock work, except that Mrs. Arlene Dux Scoville, wife of the evangelist whose singing has been such a decided feature of his former campaigns has been suffering with an attack of appendicitis. It was feared that an operation would be necessary but physicians say she will escape.

Mr. Parker of the party is walking with a cane, due to a serious minor operation on his foot. Infection from an ingrown toe nail was the cause. However he has gamely stuck to his tasks and the personal work is well up to the standard under his direction.

In a ruling just made public by the State Public Service Commission in the case of Mayor Fred A. Page of Cape Girardeau against the Missouri Public Utilities Company, the commission finds that it is necessary that the company shall construct an intake tower and pumping station for its water system in that city.

The commission directed that the tower and pumping station be located in the Mississippi river above the mouth of Sloan's Creek, and the new pumping station must be in operation not later than July 15, next.

CHINESE WAKE UP

WAR HAS BROUGHT A GREAT CHANGE IN MARITIME TRADE.

HARDWARE SALES GROW

American Products in China Taking Place of European Since Trade Has Come Our Way.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Mar. 13.—Evidence that China, for centuries the sleeping giant of the Orient, is stretching, preparatory to a full awakening, is contained in a report issued today by the Department of Commerce.

Supplies from Europe having fallen off because of the European war, China is turning to America to fill her orders. And so well does she take to the goods from the western world that Commercial Attache Julian Arnold, author of the Commerce Department report, sees a real awakening of the Chinese giant in prospect as a result.

War Helps Chinese Trade.

Up to the time the war broke out American manufacturers, the report states, were not getting their share of the business. The war has had two results, one an increased demand for American goods, the other a great stimulation of domestic manufacture. The increased demand for American goods will result in permanently increased business if American houses make a good proposition while on trial. Commercial Attache Arnold voices the opinion, however, that some few firms are exploiting the market for all it is worth and hurting future prospects for themselves and for other American houses.

Hardware Market Good.

The report discussed in detail the market for each hardware line. In Shanghai the biggest market is for heavy hardware. The Chinese have tried those lines from the United States and are satisfied with them under present conditions, but prices will have to be lower to compete with British makes after the war.

American tools are much too good for the Shanghai market, as English and German makers have for years held the trade by supplying second or third grade articles at very low prices. The Chinese prefer English files to the American makes.

Some Foreign Razors Used.

American pocket knives are unknown to the natives, as the medium grades come from England and the cheaper grades from Japan and Germany. The native barbers all use Chinese razors, which are big, clumsy affairs made from old files by the local blacksmiths. They sell for five cents. Foreign razors have a fair sale and there are many imitation American razors on the market. American shears came in during the period of que cutting and are liked for their finish.

Implements are Premature.

Agricultural implements are mostly primitive affairs, made locally. Electrical supplies are now being used to a small extent, and the Japanese are furnishing some goods at prices lower than English and American makers can meet. American scales outsell English and German makes, but small scales, in pattern similar to the steel-yard, are made locally at low cost. The Chinese housewife takes no chances when marketing and carries her own scales to verify the dealers' weights.

Demand for House Fixtures.

While a Chinese house needs nothing but fittings made by the nearest blacksmith, there is a growing demand in large cities like Shanghai, Peking and Tientsin for high-class lines of door handles, door plates and electrical fixtures and findings. Practically all of these are furnished by the United States, chiefly because the companies building the new houses are composed mostly of Americans. American locks are rapidly driving the European makes out of the market and at least four companies are actively competing for the business.

A "MADE-IN-JAPAN" BANQUET

Unique Feature Will Close Journalism Week May 7-11, at Columbia — Japanese Support It.

A "Made-in-Japan" banquet, where Oriental splendor will mix with American conservatism, will bring to a close the 1917 Journalism Week, to be held May 7 to 11 at Columbia by the School of Journalism of the University of Missouri. The idea is receiving the hearty support of Japanese statesmen, especially Viscount Motono, minister of foreign affairs. Viscount Koneko, president of the America's Friend societies, is also actively interested in the plan.

"The 'Made-in-Japan' banquet says. 'The menu, as far as practicable, will be Japanese-grown products. Souvenirs typical of the industries and exports of Japan will be distributed to the visiting journalists.'

A Japanese decorator will come from Tokyo or New York to superintend the decorations. Two Japanese steamship lines, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, have agreed to give precedence to the shipments of souvenirs over all other articles.

The movement is meeting with the endorsement of the Japanese government, and they are realizing that the publicity obtained from the banquet will be of much force in cementing the friendship of the two countries, according to Oscar E. Riley of the Japan Advertiser of Tokyo, a graduate of the School of Journalism, who is acting as its representative in Japan in making the arrangements.

FORGOTTEN WILL UNEARTHED.

Richmond, Mo., Mar. 13.—After lying forgotten for twenty-five years in a pigeon hole in the vault of the banking house of J. H. Hughes & Co., here, the will of the late Elvira S. Gorton, wealthy widow of Orrick, Mo., was brought to light, when Cashier Burnett Hughes found it tied among some old papers. No will could be found following Mrs. Gorton's death several weeks ago, and the probate court ordered a local attorney to administer her large estate. A few weeks later a public sale of her personal property was held. The will has been filed in probate court, but has not been probated.

GARDEN MUST BE PLANNED

Time Spent in Deciding How and Where to Plant Will Save You Much Subsequent Labor.

A little time spent in planning a garden will save a great deal of subsequent labor. C. G. Carpenter of the Missouri College of Agriculture suggests that the rows of vegetables run north and south so that one side will receive sunlight in the morning and the other in the afternoon. This is the best argument wherever it is possible. The slope of the garden, if it is on a hillside, may prevent running the rows north and south. It is also advisable to space the rows so that horse-drawn implements can be used. Sometimes it pays to arrange even such small plants as lettuce and radishes so that they may be cultivated with labor saving implements.

In general, planting should be begun on one side of the garden and continued to the other. This will enable the gardener to keep the weeds down on the unplanted area with minimum labor.

Vegetables planted at the same time and requiring similar cultivation should be grouped in adjacent rows. However, the time of planting is more important than the kind of cultivation required.

Rhubarb, horse radish, asparagus, winter onions, and other plants which occupy the ground, longer than a year should be set apart. Parsnips, salsify, and similar crops should be placed near the perennials. Vegetables which require only a short growing season, such as onions, cabbage, lettuce, radishes, peas, and beets, and second plantings of these crops may follow in order as planting proceeds across the garden.

GARDEN TRUCK PAYS BILLS

Macon, Mo., Editor Takes Potatoes, Beans or Other Produce for Over-due Subscriptions.

Macon, Mo.—The good old days of cordwood, onions and cabbage on subscriptions have come back to the country newspaper man. The only trouble is the editor can't get enough of the garden truck legal tender.

Farmers with overdue subscriptions can settle now with about half as much as they used to pay. A bushel of Irish potatoes will settle for a small town daily for a year and a half, or for a weekly more than two years, and the editor will be glad to make the deal.

A while back the country paper advertised all accounts should be paid in cash. Since country produce has become even more exclusive than cash, the rule has been abrogated. There are farmers about Macon who have already contracted for their papers for 1917-18 to be paid in vegetables not yet sown.

Almost anything goes these days. The other day a man made himself solid with a daily paper here for a year by swapping a box of 17½ collars, and not a man in the shop had a neck that big. But the editor knew what he was about. He traded the collars to a negro for janitor service.

Through the winter hay, corn, oats and rabbits were turned in on subscriptions.

One day a man offered a tough-looking bull pup to a Macon editor for a year's subscription. The editor was about to turn the proposition down, when some one came in from the print room and touched him on the shoulder. It was the devil, begrimed with the color of his craft.

ONE ON THE RACCOONS.

The third of April is the date chosen to celebrate, at which time the members will tell how they invested their pennies and what increase they made. In the evening a luncheon at 25 cents a plate will be served. It is the plan of the women to make this luncheon the occasion of a "get-together meeting" of the whole membership of the church.

START A PIG CLUB.

Shelbina, Mo., Mar. 13.—William Applegate has started a "Pig Club." He is breeding Duroc Jersey hogs and building up a herd that is becoming known for blood, bone, size and big litters.

He has assigned a registered sow to each of eight boys here. The sows are bred to his great herd boar which weighs more than 1,000 pounds, and which was a prize winner at the State Fair last year. For two years, the boys are to have half the pigs for caring for the sows and to deliver Applegate's half of the litters at four months of age.

Beans Acquire New Social Position with Rise in Price to $7.60 a Bu.

Beans are not what they used to be. They are no longer the friends of the boarding house landlady, the lumberjack, the soldier, and the frontiersman. They no longer do the world's exploiting, dig its mines, reduce its forests, build its skyscrapers, fight its battles or feed its lunatics. This is its day. The lowly bean has done the world's work.

But it is no more to be. With its newly acquired social position, its usefulness disappears. For the bean is now the plutocrat of vegetable food. At $7.60 a bushel, almost double since the big war began, the bean will no longer recognize its poor relations. In fact it is believed it is contemplating a debut into polite society.

Baked all day with a slab of salt pork or bacon, it is expected beans will appear ere long where only the turkey has been wont to force his luscious thighs and where five or six knives and forks and spoons and things form in line for attacks at each plate.

Hog supply was 14,000, market 10c to 15c lower, top $14.95, 5 cents above top reported from Chicago today. Sheep and lambs today $9.00, market steady to weak, top lambs $14.75.

Beef Cattle.

Prime steers were again lacking, the best natives here selling at $10.80 to $11.00, middle and plain kinds $9.50 to $10.75. Prime steers are worth around $12.00. More than 100 cars of pulp fed cattle arrived, seven cars of Oregon steers at $10.80, 1272 pounds average, Utah and Idaho at $10.40 to $10.80, Northern Colorado and Western Nebraska pulp steers at $10.40 to $11.10. Butcher cattle sold strong, cows mostly at $6.75 to $8.75, odd head up to $10.00, bulls $7.00 to $9.00, heifers $8.00 to $10.75, veal calves $9.00 to $11.50. The run today contained more than the usual proportion of shipments from a long distance, including a consignment from Southern Arizona, cattle recently

And some new implement will be invented for eating the beans, whereby you can eat prettily and die of starvation.

Nay, the bean will appear in the ladies afternoon luncheons under numerous aliases.

Good-bye beans, you have done much for us and for the world. And you do not prize our friendship. Some day you will. You will learn that we love you for what you were and not for what you cost. We always admitted you had the right stuff in you. Baked to mealy softness and oozing with the juice of pork, you approach divinity, but now you are gone to the table of the rich to mingle with wine and women and entrees of stale fish. You will no longer do the world's work. You will spend the world's money.

Good-bye old beans, and when you find nobody loves you but the dear people, come back again. The pot is open and we shall kill the fatted pig. —St. Joseph Observer.

brought across from Mexico. Native territory shows signs of depletion of the cattle supply, and light runs will be the order the balance of the week.

Stockers and Feeders.

Firm markets have ruled since the first of last week, including today, except for some weakness on thin stock steers late last week. Packers usually outbid feeder buyers on fleshy feeding steers, sales of feeders ranging from $8.60 to $10.00. Stock steers range from $7.50 to $8.50 in most cases, and are considered low, as compared with prospects for prices a month hence. Stock cows and heifers bring $6.00 to $8.50.

Hogs.

Receipts slightly in excess of estimates today gave buyers a breathing spell, and they got concessions of 10c to 15c, early top $14.90, but one of two lots finally reaching $14.95, medium weights $14.90, lights $14.70, bulk of sales $14.50 to $14.90. Receipts here contain a great many poorly finished hogs from sections short of corn, hence a spread a little wider than if more good hogs were coming. Pig prices are very high, $11.50 to $12.50, and are held up by a strong demand for immune stock hogs, the immunizing plants getting as many of their pigs at the stock yards as they can. The situation is firm, and the break today is believed to be temporary.

Sheep and Lambs.

Early sales of lambs were steady, up to $14.75, but the market proved slow, and late sales were 10c lower. Sheep sold steady some 105lb wethers at $12.60, no choice ewes here, but quotable up to $12.25. Clipped lambs have been coming freely for a week, and sell at $12.00 to $12.50. Feeding lambs are scarce, and not extra desirable, sales at $13.25 to $13.75. Receipts here have been very light, and local prices have ruled comparatively high.

A NEW FACE FOR BOY

Clever Surgeon Endeavors to Supply Features For Child Who Suffered Burns.

Chicago, Mar. 13.—A clever surgeon has made new ears for Mike Montiferro, eight years old. He has made new eyelids for him, eyelids that will wink and shut. He has made new lips for him, lips which it is hoped will have learned how to kiss before Mike is taken back to his home at Miles City, Mont. Mike is in Augustana hospital and rapidly getting better.

Mike's father is a railroad laborer, his mother "works out" part of the time to fatten the family purse. They have been in the habit of leaving Mike in charge of his younger brothers and sisters. He didn't know how to manipulate a new stove and it exploded. Mike saved his life, his sister, many of their pigs at the stock yards as they can. The situation is firm, and the break today is believed to be temporary.
